Singer-songwriter and producer Ritwick Das has released his debut Hindi single Yaad, his first of 6 Hindi singles to be released over the next few months written entirely by Ritwick and co-produced by Das along with producer Prajjawal Pant. Yaad was written with a perspective of what it feels like to fall in love with someone, not knowing if they would reciprocate the same feelings. The song also highlights the agony and pleasure that comes along with that territory of not knowing the outcome. Das wrote this song back in 2019 but couldn't release it due to the challenges of COVID and since then this song has been re-written and re-produced 3 times to make sure it is able to deliver the emotion that it was always intended to.

Earlier this year, Ritwick released a piano version of his debut single FOREVER, which was shortlisted as upcoming songs of the month by India's Rolling Stone (Digital). Ritwick is a day-jobber, singer-songwriter and producer from New Delhi, India, trying to live his dream. Born in Kolkata in July 1989, Ritwick started his musical journey from a young age of 6 years when he started learning the Tabla and then leaned towards the Piano around the age of 11. Around 14 years old he experienced his first taste of Pop/Rock and started his journey towards song-writing from the age of 16 with a vast range of influences all the way from Alterbridge to Pink Floyd. His major influences today include Ed Sheeran, Charlie Puth, James Arthur and James Blunt.
